PERSEVERING PRAYER: It is easy to be rather casual about prayer and to expect great results without much effort. Christ is telling us in today's Gospel that we must persevere in prayer. We must go on knocking if we want the door to be opened. In other words we must not only put our heart and soul into what we ask for but must go on asking continually. This is what St. Augustine's mother did. "It is impossible that the son of these tears should perish", he said. His mother had prayed long and hard for him with splendid results for the world.

Christ tells us that if we ask with persistence we will receive. But this does not seem to happen always. The answer is that every good prayer is answered but not always in the way we would like it to be. Every prayer should have the proviso "Not my will but thine by done". That, after all, was the way Christ prayed in the garden of Gethsemane. This implies that when we pray we must have a profound faith. This does not mean that we are to have a certainty about the outcome of our prayer, that we will get what we asked for. It means that we have a complete faith in the God we pray to; faith that our prayer will be answered in the way God sees fit. It will always be a good way as Christ tells us "What father among you, if his son asks for a fish, will, instead of a fish, give him a serpent?" If we ask with fervour for something we may be sure that God will not give us what is not good for us. Whatever he does give will be for our spiritual good. The man who prayed to God for neither riches nor poverty but simply three thousand dollars a year paid quarterly in advance was not likely to obtain it because there was too much of self in that prayer. Our prayer must go away from self and be directed towards God. Someone has said that he who prays rises from his knees a better person.

Used stamps for Mary MacKillop: There are some ladies who cut and sort used stamps on Monday 29th August from 1-3 pm, in the Marian Hall. All used stamps and albums are welcome. Last year we raised $68,000 and since 2001, we have raised $312,000. There's a box on the windowsill next to the door to put your used stamps in. It is through your efforts that the legacy of St Mary MacKillop, continues in Peru today.

St Vincent de Paul Appeal raised $1880. Thank you for your generous contribution.

St. Bernadette's Parish at Carlton is conducting a series of talks for Catholics returning to the Church. The program is designed to recognise the feelings of each participant, to help them realise that they are not alone, and give them the opportunity to view things in a new light. The talks run from 20th August, to 17th September. For further details contact Fr. Tadeusz : 0411 267 739, or St. Bernadette's Parish: 9587 4246.

Next weekend the Catholic Archdiocese of Sydney will be holding a CWF Parish appeal, 3rd and 4th August 2019. Envelopes are available in the foyer.
